

Annual Presentation Requirement Details

Beginning in the third year, all PhD students are required to give a talk on their research annually. A variety of venues are acceptable, including a talk at 1) the meeting of a professional society (includes posters), 2) the regular Friday afternoon departmental seminar, 3) the annual departmental research symposium held in January, or 4) any ongoing research discussion group within the department, such as the EEB Friday lunch group. To document fulfillment of this annual requirement, complete this form and provide it to the Graduate Secretary.
